Sue Kwon shows off a great website that helps you find the best deals on groceries.

Mary Monk of Cupertino is slashing her food budget in a big way. Not with coupons but with a new on-line tool that tracks the best grocery deals.

She's using Ajaxo, a San Jose based Web service that's like a search engine for cheap food.

The work is in the planning. Mary's kids are home for the week and she wants make their favorite meals. Today's grocery bill rings up to $14.92 for two pounds of rib roast, two pounds of pork chops, salad dressing and one pound of tomatoes.

Ajaxo is the brainchild of the Koo brothers, self-proclaimed bargain hunters. They say simply type in your zip code and the ingredient you're looking for. And if you don't have a clue about how to cook what you've brought home, Ajaxo can help here too.

Mary's been able to spice up the menu and cut her food budget by $200 a month. Ajaxo also tracks the savings and breaks down the cost of each meal.

Our producer tested the website and there are over a dozen stores listed for the Central Arkansas area.
